Train more, save more!

Supervisors oversee the work of others and can directly affect how work is performed. As such, Ontario's Occupational Health & Safety Act (the Act) requires employers to train supervisors and ensure they are familiar with the regulations that apply to the work they manage. When supervisors fail to meet their health and safety obligations, the consequences can be serious from worker injury and illness to Ministry of Labour orders and fines.

Under the Criminal Code of Canada supervisors, employers and managers can also be charged with criminal negligence and possibly jailed when they fail to protect the health and safety of workers and others in their workplace.

IN A CLASS OF OUR OWN

Completing training that satisfies legal health and safety requirements is no small matter. Neither is finding the time to do so.

For these reasons, the Workers Health & Safety Centre (WHSC) offers an innovative online solution to help supervisors understand and comply with their many legal responsibilities in a convenient, flexible and cost-effective way. Like all WHSC training programs, our e-class applies adult learning principles to ensure training is engaging and relevant.

WHSC Online Supervisor Health and Safety Training program is:

Accessible

- ✓ A computer with an internet connection is all that is needed to start training.
- ✓ No special software or downloads are required, but a webcam and computer audio can enhance learning.

Flexible

- ✓ Unlimited access to training allows participants to pick up where they left off.
- ✓ Training is available 24/7, for 30 continuous days, so participants can learn at their pace and schedule.

ONLINE Supervisor Health and Safety Training cont'd

Participatory

- ✓ Real-time e-class sessions ensure a highly participatory, integrated experience with both an instructor and other learners.
- ✓ Additional instructor coaching and customized feedback is available through a dedicated phone line and email access.

Comprehensive

- ✓ Seven content-rich training modules and downloadable resources that include current case studies and useful forms.
- ✓ Sessions further ensure content retention with optional narration, engaging videos, instructive flow charts and instant glossary of definitions.
- ✓ Legislative references throughout keep participants current on Ontario health and safety laws.

KNOWLEDGE AND COMPETENCY COMPLIANCE

Under the Act employers must appoint a competent person as supervisor.

A competent person is one who:

- ✓ is qualified because of knowledge, training and experience to organize the work and its performance
- ✓ is familiar with the Act and the regulations that apply to the work, and
- ✓ has knowledge of any potential or actual danger to health or safety in the workplace.

LEARNING OBJECTIVES

Through the program, participants will understand the key roles and responsibilities of supervisors and other workplace parties including:

- ✓ the Internal Responsibility System (IRS)
- ✓ the concept of due diligence
- ✓ the rights and functions of the joint health and safety committee (JHSC)
- ✓ the supervisor's role in work refusals
- ✓ Ministry of Labour workplace inspections
- ✓ JHSC or health and safety representative inspections and investigations
- ✓ Criminal Code provisions related to supervisors' duties and important case law.

The task of creating safer, healthier workplaces takes time and effort. Competent supervisors can help. So can WHSC Online Supervisor Health and Safety Training. WHSC's e-class is uniquely committed to participant engagement, ensured learning and supervisor capacity to carry out their critical workplace health and safety duties.
